

NATIONAL SIMULATION CENTER FORT LEAVENWORTH, KS 66027

COLONEL ANTHONY D. KROGH
Director

Colonel Anthony (Tony) D. Krogh is the CSL selected Director of the Army's National Simulation Center (NSC), a 300 person organization that serves as the Army's proponent for training simulation. He is additionally responsible as the TRADOC Capability Manager of the Live, Virtual, and Constructive (LVC) Training Environment with oversight to integrate all LVC components for home station training and leads the Army's capability developers for constructive simulations, gaming, and LVC integrating architecture by representing the user community and articulating capability requirements.

Colonel Anthony (Tony) D. Krogh was commissioned through ROTC as a Distinguished Military Graduate into the Corps of Engineers in 1986. He has a Bachelor's of Science degree from University of Alabama, a Master's Degree in Management from Troy University, and a Master's Degree in National Resource Strategy from the National Defense University. Colonel Krogh is a graduate of Airborne School, Engineer Officer Basic Course, Ranger School, Infantry Officer Advanced Course, Combined Arms Services Staff School, Command and General Staff College, Simulation Operations Course and the United States Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

Colonel Krogh's assignment history includes: Platoon leader and company executive officer in the 10th Engineer Battalion, 3rd Infantry Division at Schweinfurt, Germany; Deputy Operations Officer, 37th Engineer Battalion, 20th Engineer Brigade during Operation Desert Shield and Desert Storm; Adjutant and company commander in the 41st Engineer Battalion, 10th Mountain Division, Fort Drum, NY; Engineer Instructor, U.S. Army Infantry School at Fort Benning, GA; G-3 Plans officer in Army Central Command / 3rd Army, Fort McPherson, GA; Engineer Advisor in the U.S. Military Training Mission - Saudi Arabia, U.S. Central Command, in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia; Chief of Exercise Simulation in the U.S. Pacific Command, Honolulu, Hawaii; Chief of Current Operations, CJTF-7, Baghdad, Iraq; Chief of Exercise Planning and Deputy Chief of Operations for U.S. Army V Corps in Heidelberg, Germany; Chief of Battle Command Integration, Deputy Chief of Staff for Operation and Planning, Department of the Army, Washington D.C.; and Director of Simulation for the Aviation Center of Excellence, Fort Rucker, AL.

His awards and decorations include the Legion of Merit, Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Army Meritorious Service Medal, Army Commendation Medal, Joint Services

Achievement Medal, Army Achievement Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal, South West Asia Service Medal, Global War on Terrorism Service and Expeditionary Medal, Humanitarian Service Medal, Kuwait Liberation Medal - Saudi Arabia, Kuwait Liberation Medal, Ranger Tab, Parachutist Badge, and the French Armed Forces Commando Badge.

COL Krogh is a native of Birmingham, Alabama and is married to the former Kimberly Drane of Orlando, Florida. They have one daughter, Mary Ashley, and a son, Erickson.